DON ALVERTO TAXO: AN INVITATION

1. Let's recall the prophecy that Don Alverto shares with us: The condor and the eagle will fly in the same sky. Technology will serve indigenous people by preserving and communicating their way of life, which is based on harmony with nature. Can you think of an example of a technology that supports a life in harmony with nature? How are indigenous and industrial cultures already working together?
2. Don Alverto invites us all to "allow what we feel in our hearts to come out in our daily lives." Do you ever feel it is difficult to express what is in your heart? What invites you to live from that place?
3. Don Alverto says that our lives are more meaningful than a supermarket. What do you think makes life meaningful?
4. What do you think of Don Alverto's statement that every person feels a need to bring harmony into his or her life? What do you feel would bring harmony into your own life? Or into the greater community?
